When it comes to self-closing heavy gate hinges, compliance with child safety laws is of extreme importance. Safetech gate hinges are heavy duty but are safe to be installed and used in children's playgrounds, schools and are tested to Australian standards. Safetech heavy-duty hinges comply with all national and international child safety standards. When children are in the vicinity, you can count on them to swing on the gates and to put additional pressure on the gate. Safetech heavy gate hinges are made of polymer material which proves to be much more durable and provides reliable self-closing tension adjustment. The adjustment is according to closing speed, gate weight, and the resulting momentum generated by gate movement.
